Sullivan-Farrell-Johnson Trio
Backed Aimee C. for $25,000 Killing.

ROYAL VANE GOT RACE
Tokalon Captures Handicap and Owner Wins on Heavy Plunge.

(Special to The Evening World)
GRAVESEND RACE TRACK, June 10.—Aimee C., long touted as a speed wonder, was the faultless medium by which the big three, Farrell-Johnson, Sullivan combination, lost $75,000 in a plunge on the Watercolor filly to-day, installing her a false favorite. She finished third, being beaten by the highly tried and successful racer, Royal Vane, third choice, the despised Hollister, an outsider in the betting, even beating the Aimee C. wonder.

It was a truly run race from start to finish, so the form of Aimee C. is truly shown.

The losing plunge of the Big Three was preceded by a winning plunge of "Jim" Fuller, of Mineral Springs, Tex., owner of Tokalon, last year's winner of the Brooklyn Handicap. He played the mare at her best time when tons of money were being shovelled in the strong boxes of the "bookies" by Brookdale Nymph supporters and when the horses were off "Big Jim" was still betting.

Tom McGrath Almost Left.

A ranged start which saw half the field unprepared favored the "good thing," Lady Anne, and she won, after leading all the way. Tom McGrath, the favorite, was left and, although he went after her, there never was a chance of overtaking her. In the slow, long strides, Mary F. and Wooditch, long shots, were placed second and third respectively, it appears to the majority that Robin Hood, one of the three early pacemakers, may rank in second place coming fast under Mountain's famous ride. Several horses were head-and-heads, and judges may have been right. Robin Hood's backers will not be convinced, however, that their favorite was not the horse that killed his chances. Danahue, a rangy gelding, and when Buckman tired and stumbled, Danahue took front. The latter liked the 2 1/2-mile route, and, running flawlessly, won home to walk. W. Colby's Blue Pigeon outran Buckman for second money.

Tokalon Came Back.

Tokalon won the third race to-day from a fast lot, coming in the last, last, tenth, and, though she did not quite wear down the well-played Court Dress, who had made all the running, and beating her out in a drive, Brookdale Nymph, played from threat to threat, closed with a burst of Court Dress in the race and essayed to come through at the head of the stretch, but Tokalon was well schooled to that turn. It was the former's turn to be beaten, and Tokalon, in the handicap, so she moved up with the Nymph, passing the latter and grabbing Court Dress. The latter tired at the critical moment and Nymph hung on to third.

"Good Thing" Pulled Up.

Fausi was the fifth race in a common yellow, from Aerobat's Linnepe, third. The Madden gelding led all the way and was an odds-on favorite. Full of Fire, a good filly, and Mrs. McHugh pulled up the unusual infidelity. Both Eye was the "good thing," planned weeks ago for a killing, and the gelding was played near the end, was running well with the older ones.

Big Plunge on Faust.

The Drakes and the Gates, father and son, made Faust the medium of a heavy wager, setting the early tilt from John Kelly, and the latter won in the plough to the Clubhouse, commanding. The Clubhouse came in second, held three to one, and in to ten. Faust went to walk. The older ones came in.

Hackett Got the Last.

Hackett, a clever performer regarding wagers, got the good information that the next favorite, won the last race. Hackett finished second to Tokalon, played heavily near the close, and good third.
